NOVEMBER 5, 2017 NEWSLETTER

NETWORK

Engaged Learning

CONNECTING TOMORROW'S EDUCATORS TODAY

FINDING YOUR CREATIVE SELF

Give yourself a creative boost

Creativity is a must for every single one of us! Being an entrepreneur means that I need to continually be creative and authentic to challenge and satisfy myself.

However, somedays this is easier said than done. It can be hard to be creative when we are feeling drained or simply having an off day. And that is ok!

When I am in need of a boost of creativity, I find myself coming back to my list of 10 ways to Stay Creative and simply pick one way to give myself a creative boost.

Being active and reading are two activities I practice daily to keep my brain creative. I have recently started listening to brain food music as well and find it super helpful.

Hope you find my creativity tips helpful!

All my best,

Brianna

IN THIS ISSUE

Educators To Follow

Featured Twitter Chat

EdTech Tool To Try

MY FAVORITE EDUCATORS TO GAIN CREATIVITY FROM

1. Dan Brown - @DanBrownTeacher

Dan Brown, co-director of the Future Educators Association, shares words of advice that will motivate you to think creatively.

2. Julie Woodard - @woodard_julie

When looking for inspiration and creativity, I love to head over to Julie Woodard's Twitter profile. I love her creative Sketch Notes!

3. Arielle Goldstein - @ariellehg

I recently started following Arielle and I am in love with the creativity she puts into her teaching! You need to go check out her blog for all things tech and teaching.

#MakerEd

Searching #MakerEd on Twitter is my go-to when brainstorming new ideas. The creativity and passion put into this hashtag will put your creative brain into overdrive

This is also a great hashtag to use when you post to inspire others with your creativity!

"YOU WERE BORN AN ORIGINAL. DON'T DIE A COPY."

-John Mason

Featured EdTech Tool
Podcasts App

About Podcasts

Discover free audio stories that entertain, inform, and inspire. Explore shows you'll love from entertainment and comedy to news and sports.

My favorite podcast to listen to for a creative boost is Style Your Mind by Cara Alwill Leyba.

10 Ways To Stay Creative

1. Keep An Idea Journal

2. Get Moving

3. Read Books

4. Listen To Podcasts

5. Let Go Of Fear

6. Create An Inspiration Board

7. Travel

8. Collaborate With Others

9. Break Your Routine

10. Listen To Music

Learn more with my blog post on this topic.

Tune In Next Week For

Educators Who Are Showing Their Thankful

Featured Twitter Chat

What Are You Thankful For?

I hope that you enjoyed this issue of Engaged Learning Network.

If you have any questions or comments, feel free to get in touch.

SOLUTIONS

Engaged Media

A Fresh Look At New Media

www.engagedmediasolutions.com